

New Tribes Mission Training College North Cotes April 2010

Visiting New Tribes Mission Training College with Friends in Action was an inspirational experience of the highest degree. I arrived with little knowledge of the work that they carry out, but I left with a much more informed position about the work they do and the work that is yet to be completed.

We as a team set out to undertake various practical tasks, ranging from plumbing maintenance to concreting new pathways.

The joiners on the team constructed a new stud wall and fitted out a conference room. This resulted in a partitioned workshop, more suited for winter conditions. The completion of these tasks was of benefit to the Centre Maintenance Team, which allows greater scope for other projects on site. Another aspect of the trip was the great fellowship between fellow team members and the staff at NTM. Many stories, experiences and thoughts were shared about the mission field. I was truly blessed and moved by those there.

I was greatly encouraged to learn of the current work that God is doing through the instrument of NTM. Without this work, there is no vehicle to equip missionaries with the skills and biblical knowledge to effectively witness for Christ.

It was a true privilege to work on an FIA team at the headquarters of New Tribes Mission in North Coats. It is a very humbling experience to be part of a team that places God first in every aspect of life. Please keep New Tribes Mission in your thoughts and prayers!
